

Online Master of Science and Graduate Certificates in Palliative Care

Why should you consider joining us in the Master of Science and Graduate Certificate programs in Palliative Care?

We've got your why ...

"I am just completing this incredible Masters program offered by the University of Maryland, Interdisciplinary Masters of Science and Graduate Certificate Program in Palliative Care. Although this is a program geared towards human medicine, I was able to apply all of the concepts to veterinary patients. I substituted veterinary cases where applicable. I learned such useful information that has really transformed my veterinary practice. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions!"
